Care is Better Together

JASON FAIR, DIRECTOR OF CLINICAL SERVICES

Jason Fair serves as the Director of Clinical Services, bringing nearly two decades of experience in healthcare operations, strategic development, and mobile integrated health. Known for his ability to build cross-functional alignment and drive complex initiatives forward, Jason has led innovative programs that expand access to care and improve system performance.

Before stepping into his current role, Jason served as Director of Operations at Medically Home, where he played a key role in scaling hospital-at-home programs. Prior to that, he was the Director of Mobile Integrated Health and Strategic Development at Emergent Health Partners, where he led the design and implementation of new care delivery models that connected patients—particularly aging and at-risk populations—to timely, high-value in-home services.

Jason holds a master's degree in economics and a BBA. He is passionate about advancing patient-centered care, fostering collaborative leadership, and creating sustainable operational systems across the healthcare landscape.

"I believe in building bold visions, inspiring others to see their own potential, and leading with compassion and accountability—because sustainable impact is built by great minds and kind hearts working together."
